LombokDev

Updated : June, 5th 2018

Background

In big cities like Jakarta or Surabaya, tech community meetup is common and strongly funded/supported. They regularly held an offline meetup, for free. But in the small cities of Lombok, this kind of community meetup is still considered small and sporadic. Even there is no comfy working space yet like in the big cities. And there is no local big tech company that could support the community.

Lombok Dev was formed to respond this issue. Lombok Dev was initiated in 2016. The first meetup was held in November 2016, second meetup in October 2017, the third meetup in December 2017, and the fourth meetup in April 2018. We also have been held a data science workshop in May 2018. The enthusiasm of the participants emerges our expectation.

Goals

- To initiate the collaboration spirit from the participants.
- To encourage the community to share their knowledge, inspiration and experiences in tech.
- To be a centralized place for networking, both for academic and professional.
